PROFILE

My name is Tim Geenen, born on October 18, 1995, currently based in Asia. For over 3 years, I successfully built and managed my own freelance window cleaning business, GeenenCleaning. Additionally, I have been traveling throughout Southeast Asia for over 1 year. I am currently working as a full stack freelance web developer, eager to transition my skills and passion into this field. As a proactive and adaptable individual, I am committed to learning and achieving excellence in web development.
